The context: Experimental learning is to lead the youths of our country at this phase of the new millennium when there has been a radical shift in the management of domestic economy vis-a-vis the global compulsions. Among other core values Education needs to be related to the real issues of livelihood, skill-based proficiency, self reliance and values of being Homo sapiens. It is expected that the skill enhancement opportunities inherent in the course content will aid and motivate the learners' vocational orientation and the act of learning by doing. The diploma courses in Sattriya and Cosmetology are quite demanding and rewarding too for the students from rural background while serious pursuit of B. Voc. in IT and Physical Education being experimental in nature can be a promising area for career building.

The Practice: all the certificates and diploma courses along with B. Voc. in IT and physical education will be a continuous practice keeping in view the relevance and vocational focus. We have so far received favorable response from the students and the certificate courses will be conducted in self-financing mode like the B. Voc courses. Keeping in view the economic issues in a post-pandemic situation we have not levied any fees on the students of the certificate courses and even for the B. Voc. programmes the fees in force have been levied at an affordable rate. But all the courses on skill enhancement will gradually be operated under full self financing mode. The syllabi for the courses on Sattriya Dance, Cosmetology have been designed in a simple learner-friendly way to feel at home in the respective domain. The certificate course on Creative and Critical Thinking connects the learners with the degree course in literature that has its strong grounding in a wide range of critical and creative issues, western classics and
